

Year Book

2022-2023

FIN High School

CONTENTS

01 Contents Page

02 Photo Of School Building

03 Message From Principal

04 Message From Chairman

05 Faculty Members

06 Introducing Us

14 The Student Life

15 Life Outside of Classes

16 Fun Moments

FIN
High School

MESSAGE FROM PRINCIPAL

Amit k
Principal

I know these last few weeks haven't been easy. There are so many expectations and much excitement over the end of the school year. I know I'm a little more easily frustrated this time of year and I can seem more difficult to please. I know you are feeling a bit more wiggly as you become filled with anticipation over the fast-approaching summer, but I want you to know something.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I look at you and realize you aren't the same kids that I welcomed into my classroom last year. You're all a couple inches taller. You have a different haircut. Your style has changed a little as you've grown into yourself a tad bit more.

I know these last few weeks haven't been easy. There are so many expectations and much excitement over the end of the school year. I know I'm a little more easily frustrated this time of year and I can seem more difficult to please. I know you are feeling a bit more wiggly as you become filled with anticipation over the fast-approaching summer, but I want you to know something.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN

Rahul Sing
Chairman

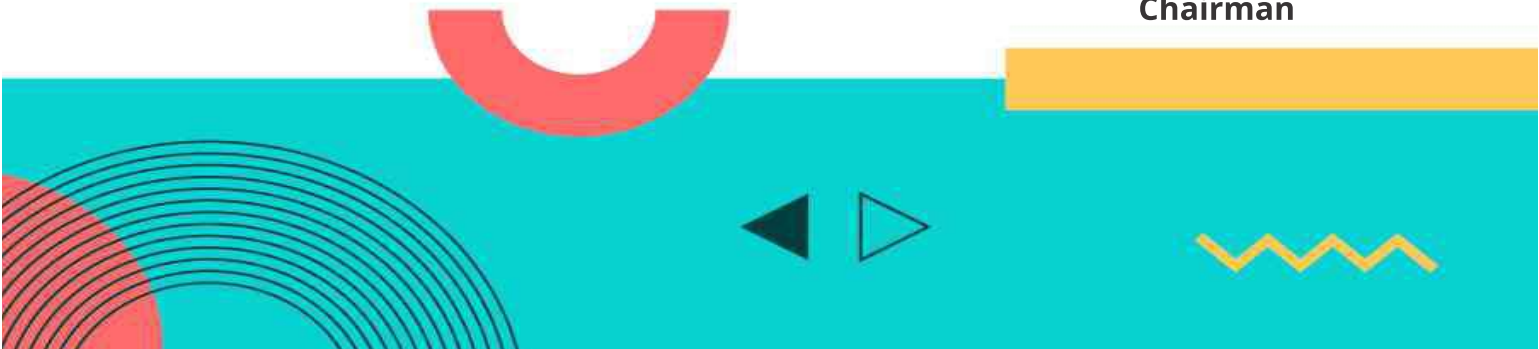

I know these last few weeks haven't been easy. There are so many expectations and much excitement over the end of the school year. I know I'm a little more easily frustrated this time of year and I can seem more difficult to please. I know you are feeling a bit more wiggly as you become filled with anticipation over the fast-approaching summer, but I want you to know something. I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I look at you and realize you aren't the same kids that I welcomed into my classroom last year. You're all a couple inches taller. You have a different haircut. Your style has changed a little as you've grown into yourself a tad bit more.

I know these last few weeks haven't been easy. There are so many expectations and much excitement over the end of the school year. I know I'm a little more easily frustrated this time of year and I can seem more difficult to please. I know you are feeling a bit more wiggly as you become filled with anticipation over the fast-approaching summer, but I want you to know something.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

Rahul Sing
Chairman

FACULTY MEMBERS

Sunil C
Financial Management

Rakesh R
Financial Management

Leo Lin
Financial Management

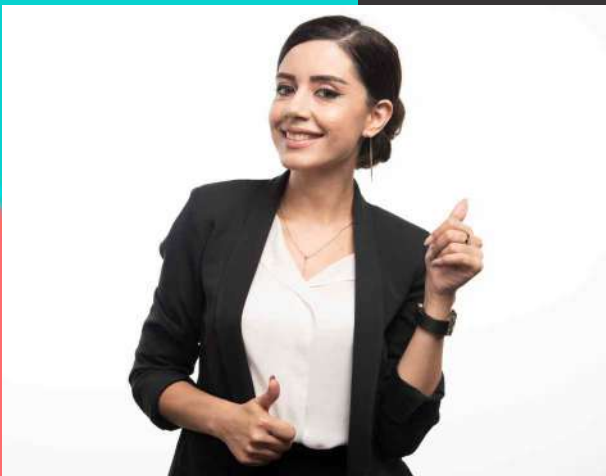

FACULTY MEMBERS

Riddhi P
Financial Management

Jai Kishan
Financial Management

Jyotika L
Financial Management

INTRODUCING US!

I look at you and realize you aren't the same kids that I welcomed into my classroom last year. You're all a couple inches taller.

You have a different haircut. Your style has changed a little as you've grown into yourself a tad bit more.

Ronit M
Indian

Ronit M
Indian

I look at you and realize you aren't the same kids that I welcomed into my classroom last year. You're all a couple inches taller.

You have a different haircut. Your style has changed a little as you've grown into yourself a tad bit more.

I look at you and realize you aren't the same kids that I welcomed into my classroom last year. You're all a couple inches taller.

You have a different haircut. Your style has changed a little as you've grown into yourself a tad bit more.

Priya k
Indian

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

I want you to know that as we embrace the blur of awards ceremonies and report cards that this time of year brings, I'm feeling a bit bittersweet.

FIRST DAY OF CLASS

And mostly, I did. I had cloudy moments where my vision was blurred by stress from too many papers to grade and too many conferences to conduct, but I always cared.

And mostly, I did. I had cloudy moments where my vision was blurred by stress from too many papers to grade and too many conferences to conduct, but I always cared.

And mostly, I did. I had cloudy moments where my vision was blurred by stress from too many papers to grade and too many conferences to conduct, but I always cared.

Our Batch

Neha sing

Neha sing

Neha sing

Neha sing

Neha sing

Neha sing

Neha sing

Neha sing

Neha sing

Sports

THE STUDENT LIFE

I hope you always knew that I cared; more than you learned how to write a thesis statement and more than you know how to write a coherent essay.

I hope you always knew that I cared; more than you learned how to write a thesis statement and more than you know how to write a coherent essay.

I hope you always knew that I cared; more than you learned how to write a thesis statement and more than you know how to write a coherent essay.

Sports

College trip and memories

LIFE OUTSIDE OF CLASSES

group pic

FUN MOMENTS

FIN HIGH SCHOOL

Main Building, 6th Main Road,
Neeladri Nagar, Bangalore, 560001

Contact : 9370628393

Email : customercare@photojaanic.com